

Alicat Scientific, Inc. Conflict Minerals Statement

To whom it may concern:

At Alicat Scientific, it is our mission to meet business objectives and customer needs while maintaining our company core values with the utmost integrity and social responsibility. To that end, Alicat Scientific shall not support or contribute to the violence and human rights violations associated with the minerals from any “Conflict Region”, further defines ad “Conflict Minerals”.

“Conflict Region” includes the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Angola, Burundi, the Central African Republic, The Republic of Congo, Uganda, Rwanda, South Sudan, Tanzania, and Zambia.

“Conflict Minerals” are classified as using materials from the “Conflict Region” in the manufacture of their products. “Conflict Minerals” include:

- Columbite-tantalite, also known as coltan (tantalum)
- Cassiterite (tin)
- Gold
- Wolframite (tungsten)
- Their derivatives
- Any other mineral or derivatives determined by the Secretary of State to be financing conflict in the DRC countries

Alicat Scientific has not confirmed any “Conflict Minerals” as defined in “Section 1502 of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, as well as California Senate Bill 861” in our supply chain. When possible, our suppliers’ Conflict Mineral statements are reviewed and maintained in our records.

Alicat Scientific does not directly purchase any “Conflict Minerals” from any source and does not knowingly procure any product containing “Conflict Minerals” from the “Conflict Region”. To the extent that our contract manufacturing services include products that contain “Conflict Minerals” that are necessary to the functionality of production of the product design, we are committed to collaborating with our customers to increase transparency regarding the origin and traceability of minerals contained in said products.

Alicat Scientific encourages our suppliers to adopt similar policies and management systems with respect to “Conflict Minerals” and to drive similar efforts throughout their supply chain to ensure that the specified minerals are being sourced only from mines and smelters outside the “Conflict Region” or those within that have been certified by an independent third party as “Conflict Free”.

Sincerely,
